

DAVID ICKE

A Christ-rejecting fantasist

Whilst recently converting a short TV interview that I had on video tape (of Tony Campolo on a local TV programme called 'Kelly') I came across another interview from another 'Kelly' programme that aired some two weeks later on 25th March 1994. In this case the person being interviewed was DAVID ICKE. This is a man who used to present sports programmes on TV and then gave it all up to share his own peculiar views and philosophy.

To the best of my knowledge I have not personally written anything about him so after giving you the link to see that TV interview I will then give links to others who have written about him. In doing so I am not necessarily putting my seal of approval upon every view expressed by those writers but I do think there will be helpful factual information that will enable you to understand why I have given the above title to my own article. Firstly, this is the link to see the TV interview -

By way of comment I'll just say this – early in the interview DAVID ICKE mockingly rejects the notion of someone like the Lord Jesus Christ coming from on high to judge this world – he would do well to 'take heed' to these scriptures –

Psalm 98:8-9 "Let the floods clap their hands; let the hills be joyful together before the Lord for he cometh to judge the earth; with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the peoples with equity".

Revelation 20:12 "Behold I (Jesus) come quickly and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be".

Then secondly, these are the links to what others have written about DAVID ICKE
