

N. T. WRIGHT is N. T. WRONG:

Facebook post of 15th May 2021.

N T Wright is someone who I warned about in my article that considered what is known as the 'New Perspective on Paul' (NPP). That 2007 article can be accessed on this link –

On Saturday 15th May 2021 I posted an item to Facebook citing the title of this article and this is what I wrote –

N T WRIGHT is N T WRONG:

Excellent 6-minute assessment by John MacArthur on this link –

This confirms my own reservations that I shared in my article on the so-called 'New Perspective on Paul' that can be accessed on this link –

Since posting that item to Facebook I have done a little Internet 'surfing' and I came across this intriguing article –

Nearly Everything Wrong with N. T. Wright Summed Up in One Chapter Heading

The article deals with the chapter contribution N. T. Wright made to a book called – 'The Lost World of Adam and Eve: Genesis 2-3 and the Human Origins Debate' and it can be accessed on this link

<https://banneroftruth.org/uk/resources/articles/2018/nearly-everything-wrong-n-t-wright-summed-one-chapter-heading/>

It is a short article but I certainly commend it highly.

A lengthier additional, but nonetheless REALLY informative article by Phil Johnson on the dangerous views of N. T. Wright, can also be accessed on this link –

If you prefer to watch Phil Johnson deliver, more or less, this assessment on another occasion, you can do so by going to this link –

It includes a reference to the favourable endorsement that N. T. Wright gave, and which I had forgotten about, in the dreadful book by Steve Chalke called ‘The lost message of Jesus’. This is the relevant page from my own copy of the book and as you will see, other endorsers include Brian McLaren and Tony Campolo, individuals that I personally would not wish to be linked/associated with.

*Praise for The Lost Message of Jesus

Steve Chalke's new book is rooted in good scholarship, but its clear, punchy style makes it accessible to anyone and everyone. Its message is stark and exciting; Jesus of Nazareth was far more challenging in his own day, and remains far more relevant to ours, than the church has dared to believe, let alone preach.

—The Rt Revd N. T. Wright, Bishop of Durham

Steve Chalke's new book could help save Jesus from Christianity. That's a strange way of putting it, I know. Not that the real Jesus needs saving. But when one contrasts the vital portrait of Jesus painted by Steve with the tense caricature drawn so often by modern Christianity, one can't help but feeling the "Jesus" of modern Christianity is in trouble. The Jesus introduced by Steve in these pages, however, sounds like someone who can truly save us from our trouble.

—Brian McLaren, author of
The Church on the Other Side

This book presents the holistic theology that the church desperately needs. The radical call of Christ to transform the world comes through loud and clear. This is a must read for any who want to speak relevantly to our age.

—Tony Campolo,
Professor Emeritus, Eastern University

There is no doubt that N. T. Wright has what might be called a 'commanding aura' about him, but that, in truth, serves only to make him all the more dangerous – focus on what he has said and written, test it like good Bereans against God's Word and I believe you will come to the conclusion that on many critical issues N. T Wright is N. T. Wrong.
